Dear Friend

Many thanks for post card and letter and I feel I am indebted to you for all the trouble you are taking but when finished you
must let me know the amount I owe. I shall be made up with the
two girls and if they can do a little cooking in Swedish I should be a help I shall send her ticket on through Wilsons and ten crowns for train fare then they can come together I send Lisa ticket next mail and in the mean time if you can find a fine girl
that would be fine I am so sorry you cannot come to manage Nelson Street Shop

I have thought seriously of selling it out. You know all about its position. Nicely furnished. Pianos. all as it stands for £200) that means £20 for your trouble I shall know and say more later there is a gentleman staying here his name is Mr Olson and as promised to write
you. There are very nice people coming just now
will close with many thanks and trusting you are keeping well and Dunsey is the earnest wish of your true friend

Dear Mr. Murek

Your welcome letter
received this morning
Pleased to learn you are keeping well I am
indeed very grateful
in you taking the
the B. Girl. I have carefully
much better if the were
company for each
good girls I think

agreement it would feel we write for the time
and write by return
letting me know the
cheapest and best
course in getting
them over if I could get a succubus fin
I could also do with her having the two
places and this are
a great number of
fins coming through I trust I am not troubling you too much and by next I shall try and
better. The boys are grand and at present away
I know close with very Best wishes for a bright and prosperous future

and remain your
true friend
